Magnificent Floral Beauty, Historic Train Adventure & Breathtaking Landscapes

the Butchart Gardens®

In 1904, Robert Butchart developed a quarry on Vancouver Island. As the limestone deposits were exhausted, his wife, Jennie, transformed the empty quarry into something of beauty; it blossomed into the Sunken Garden. Between 1906 and 1929, the Japanese, Italian and beautiful Rose Gardens were completed. Each year over 900 varieties bloom and over a million people visit to view the spectacle.
